START ON ARENA IN A 'FEW DAYS'

Name Committee To Seek Solution Of Tannery Smell

Aurora—A special meeting of the Aurora council Monday evening saw a fact-finding committee appointed to find a solution to Aurora's tannery odor problem. The committee was appointed following the presentation of a petition requesting action to eliminate the odor problem. Over 15' long, the petition was signed by nearly 500 Aurora citizens.

Editor Feels Proud of Way Issue Handled

By Bill Foote, Aurora Editor
Aurora — This is one of those things you can't help expressing. I attended Monday evening's special council meeting. I saw the petition presented and listened to the comments of those present. I left the meeting feeling proud, proud to be living in Aurora, a town in which the people, the council and industry could meet together and attempt to thrash out a ticklish municipal headache on a basis of friendly co-operation. We've got a tough problem here in Aurora. A problem that could easily lead to bitter disagreement. We don't like the tannery odor. We'd like to see a solution for it. If Monday evening's meeting is a true sample, we should have that solution. And in the not too distant future, either. For the tone of the whole meeting was, "let's get together and work this out, fellows. We can if we can pull together." The people of Aurora aren't going to be disappointed. They'll be proud too, just as I was when I left that meeting.

Era-Express Second In National Editorial Contest

The Newmarket Era and Express was awarded second prize for its editorial page in national competition for weekly newspapers of 2,000 circulation or more. The announcement was made from Jasper, Alta., where the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association is holding its annual convention.

First prize was awarded the Midland Free Press Herald. In Ontario-Quebec competition, the Newmarket Era and Express and the Midland Free Press Herald were tied in second place.

The judging was done on four consecutive issues in March-April. Points awarded the papers, and judge's remarks are not now available but additional particulars will be given as they reach us.

NEW SEWER POLICY CONFIRMED

Newmarket—The new policy adopted by the town of letting a home-owner pay the cost of connecting his house to a new sewer over fixed period was confirmed Monday night when a resident of Andrew St. sent a letter requesting such a payment plan for his sewer connection.

Mayor Vale, who was away when council adopted the policy, said "I think you are setting a dangerous precedent. You have to charge interest to the property-owner and you have to draw up a special agreement for each one."

The council had intended such a policy only when a new sewer was being constructed. The policy was instigated on the suggestion of town engineer Denne Bosworth during sewer construction in the Connaught Gardens area a few weeks ago. The Andrew St. resident was asking for the same concession as the people were getting on the new sewer line.

Said Mr. Bosworth, "With this new policy, all street disturbance is over at once. All homes can be connected when the sewer is built."

"And I understand that the policy cannot be applied after the sewer is completed," added the mayor.

Mr. Bosworth and Mr. Bosworth recommended that the Andrew St. resident's application be turned down.

CEMENT MIX-UP

Sidewalk By-Law Delayed

Newmarket—The town is not likely to get any more new sidewalks this year. The council is still undecided about a policy for paying the cost. A by-law for the expenditure of $20,000, already approved by the Ontario Municipal board, failed to go through a final reading at the meeting of council Monday night.

At the preceding meeting a month ago, it was decided that a meeting would be held four days later to decide a policy, either by local improvement plan or by general expenditure, to pay for new sidewalks. Councillor Frank Bowser had declared that it would be too late to start work this fall unless tenders were accepted that week. The meeting was cancelled.

"Why wasn't that special meeting insisted upon three weeks ago?" asked R. C. Morrison.

Mr. Bowser and Mr. Bosworth declared that their tenders were not absolutely in order to call a meeting at that time. The by-law which passed second reading as well as the approval of the municipal board, was drawn up to include repairing, replacing and constructing walks. Council's long discussion on Monday night was whether they should adopt a policy whereby each property-owner is assessed for a percentage of the cost or have the whole town

Close Kindergarten As Schools Faced With Record Demand

Newmarket—The kindergarten for the public schools had to be discontinued after the opening of schools last week because of lack of accommodation. Pupils five and a half years old September 6 were absorbed into a new grade one class and those younger had to be sent home.

After the advance registration in June of a capacity 682, it was found on opening day that the school enrollment had been increased by the addition of 27 new pupils who had not previously registered, forcing the establishment of an extra grade one class and the discontinuing of the kindergarten.

Warned that the increase in school population would require building a new school, the school board in April, 1948, applied to the council for permission to build. The council's part of the procedure was not completed until early in 1949. The preparation of plans, drafting of estimates, arranging for the site, and call for tenders was not completed until the beginning of the summer. The work will begin on the new school by the end of this month but it will not be ready this year.

In the meantime, the school board has sought alternative accommodation in Newmarket. Club 14, the Trumpet Band hall, the council chambers, the town hall, the St. Paul's parish hall, the Trinity United church and Friends church were all considered but were rejected for various reasons including fire hazard, heating, lack of playground space, lighting or inadequate toilet facilities.

High School Board Resumes Efforts For Wing

Newmarket—The Newmarket-Sutton district high school board meeting Tuesday night is hoping to pave the way to the construction of additions to Newmarket and Sutton high schools but it does not expect anything concrete to be done for another year.

Chairman of the board, A. N. Belugin, said that it would take a year to get through all the red tape. "The first hurdle is to go through the department of education and then we can go to the councils in the district," he said. The province would pay 75 per cent of the costs of the district board.

"We would have to get the approval of every municipality in the district and if one single municipal council refuses, a vote will have to be taken in that municipality. Unfortunately many people who have a vote are not sending children to school and they may not realize the great need for additional educational facilities," said K. M. R. Stiver.

"If any council refuses us, the board can force a vote," said the chairman, "but it would not work. The vote would not carry if the council were against us. This board will actually have to sell the idea of the need for additional buildings and that will take time," he said.

One of the major problems cited at the meeting was the large number of cottage owners in North Gwillimbury which would endanger complete agreement on school expenditures.

The board has tentative approval already from the department on plans for an addition to Newmarket high school that would enable the school to have added courses such as domestic science and shop work. Forthcoming plans for the Sutton school call for a new gym-auditorium.

aren't going to get it done this year. And what policy is the next council going to decide on?"

"I protested when the original motion was made," declared Deputy-Reeve Spillette, "and I recommended a local improvement plan, but if we adopt this policy, construction won't get under way this fall because we have to advertise for tenders again."

Then Mayor Vale declared that in his original motion he had used the words replacing, repairing, and not constructing sidewalks which would apply to building new ones. In order to sidestep naming a policy for new sidewalk construction, the mayor suggested omitting the word "constructing" from the by-law and to go ahead on debentures for repairing and replacing on the general town expenditures. "We can pass this by-law and decide on a new policy for payment of new sidewalks later."

"But we have been promising these boys in the Connaught Gardens subdivision for new sidewalks for years. Difficulty in getting recent help is up before. Now we won't get them in this year and we promised to do it as soon as we could," said Frank Bowser.

What is known among councilors as "that popular motion" brought an adjournment. A meeting has been set for next Monday night.

PICKERING RE-OPENS THIS WEEK

Newmarket—Pickering College officially opened its doors for the fall term yesterday with a full enrolment, the senior school being somewhat larger than usual this year.

Among new students from distant places are two from the Dominican Republic, two from Columbia and three from Lethbridge, Alta.

Football squads are already training on the new playing field which was engineered last spring by an old boy, Jack Rayner, with financial assistance by other old boys of the school. The sod was put on the field this summer and the college has now a large regulation-size field and greater facilities for track and field sports.

Four new staff members are at the school this year including Ward Cornell, a graduate of Western who attended Pickering from 1939 to 1943. Mr. Cornell's grandfather was at one time minister at the Friends' church in Newmarket. Others are W. Meeker, a graduate of the University of Western Ontario, John Penner, a graduate of McMaster University, and Mr. Sheil, a graduate of the University of Dublin.

Three staff members who were associated with the school for several years left during the summer. F. D. L. Stewart is now in Ottawa with the Department of External Affairs, R. E. Mather, a Pickering graduate, is in Windsor with the Ford Motor Company, and Robert McClure who lived in Queensville, is now teaching in Parry Sound.

Council Committee Laud Era Co-Operation

Aurora—During the course of Monday evening's special council meeting at which a committee was appointed to seek a solution to the tannery smell, both the council and the special citizens' committee joined to laud the efforts of The Newmarket Era and Express in seeking a solution to the tannery odor. Tribute was paid to both the leadership and co-operation afforded by The Era and Express in its all-out aid to the citizens' committee.

East Toronto Presbytery Accents Resignations

Aurora—The regular monthly meeting of the Presbytery of East Toronto here saw the resignation of two ministers accepted. Rev. W. M. MacKay of Knox Presbyterian church, Agincourt, tendered his resignation following 42 years ministerial service. Synodical superintendent of missions for Northern Ontario and Manitoba for 17 years, Rev. MacKay had served as minister at Knox church for three and a half years. During this time the church became self-sustaining and built a manse.

The resignation was also received of Rev. J. E. Paulin upon completion of 40 years ministerial service. A veteran of the Battle of Vimy Ridge, Rev. Paulin has served as minister at Rosedale Presbyterian church, Toronto, for 21 years. Both resignations were accepted as of the end of September.

'Sympathetic Englishman' Sends Griffiths $50

Newmarket — The Griffiths Fund has been substantially increased by a $50 donation from someone in Newtonbrook who signed his letter as "An Englishman who knows the value of sympathy and help."

The fund has been established to assist a young English immigrant, Bob Griffiths, who fractured his neck, and his fiancée, Dorothy Roberts, become established again. Knowing no other means of making a living except farming, Bob's situation is made difficult by his injury which will prevent him from doing heavy work.

The young couple are at present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnston on Gorham

See End To Delay As Debentures On Rink OK'ed

Newmarket—Work will start on the Newmarket arena within a "very few days", chairman of the ways and means committee, Fred S. Thompson, said last night. His announcement followed word that verbal approval to the debenturing of the cost of arena renovations and improvements had been given by the municipal board.

Pipe for Ice Plant Arrives at Aurora, Allays Fear of Delay

Aurora—A large quantity of piping arrived in Aurora early this week. Taken to the arena where it was dumped on the lawn, it gave the people of Aurora their first visual evidence of progress in the installation of artificial ice in the Aurora memorial arena.

Last April the ratepayers approved council's proposed expenditure on artificial ice installation and arena renovation. Thereafter, occasional news items told of the changes and progress made as plans were prepared for their final draft. With the passing of the summer season, feeling grew strong among a number of citizens that the work should now be allayed, and as the daily progress of the work is noted, there will be a general appreciation of the time and effort spent by both the council and the rink committee in the planning of this highly popular municipal project.

Armitage Walks Said 'Worst' Part Of Subdivision

Newmarket—The Era and Express toured the Armitage Heights subdivision last night to examine sidewalks that were in the bad books of town council Monday night.

The general appearance of the walks does not compare with those built from each house by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. There were some cracks where a truck had been driven over the walks, according to one resident. Many of the cross lines which mark off the concrete in blocks were crooked. One housewife said she swept the sidewalk in front of her house and the surface peeled off. This might have been caused by bad weather, one resident said.

In many places the clay had washed from under the concrete during recent rains and if much more is washed out, one will be able to see under them.

Whether the sidewalks will crack and sink in another year is a question but to the layman's eye it would appear that they will not last long under the present conditions.

"The poorest part of the new Armitage subdivision is the sidewalk construction," criticized Reeve Arthur D. Evans at a meeting of town council on Monday night. "There were cracks in the concrete blocks a week after they were laid down," he said.

Sidewalk construction in the new subdivision was subject to criticism before the work had been completed, by councillor VanZant a few weeks ago. He said then that the walks were being laid on solid clay and that according to advice from a reliable authority, it was contrary to all correct methods. "In a few years they will sink and break," he said.

"People will be talking about this for 20 years," Mr. Evans said. The contract permits the town to hold back five percent from the contractor for a year and it states that the work was to be completed to the satisfaction of the engineer.

Councillor Frank Bowser said that the work was done according to the recommended procedure by a large cement company. "I don't think that some of these people who are making the criticisms have a right to," he said.

"I don't think the cement was wet down enough," said Mr. VanZant. "The only reason I made the criticism was an effort to see that we were getting value for our money."

Council on Monday night, and the recreation committee, operators of the arena, on Tuesday night gave the rink committee permission to begin work as soon as possible. Ross Howlett is the contractor.

The cost of the artificial ice plant only, an estimated $30,000, will be raised by public subscription. Over $12,000 has been contributed towards the fund already. Canvassing for the balance has been resumed and it is anticipated that the fund objective will be quickly reached.

The cost of installing the ice plant has been greatly reduced by the offers of time, money and labor by individuals and by the Canadian Hoffman Machinery Corporation through its general manager, Dewey Kuhns. Changes to the arena include the renovation of the entrance and locker rooms, and the placing of seats along the north side.

It is pointed out that had the whole cost of arena improvements and the installation of the ice plant been assumed by the town, it would have meant a debenture cost of over $60,000, the equivalent of a mill and a half on the tax rate. Through contributions of individuals, the cost to the town has been reduced to $25,000.

All that remains now is the third reading of the town by-law to complete the legal requirements of the town's contribution, and the completion of the canvass to pay for the ice plant.

NEW SEWER POLICY CONFIRMED

Newmarket—The new policy adopted by the town of letting a home-owner pay the cost of connecting his house to a new sewer over fixed period was confirmed Monday night when a resident of Andrew St. sent a letter requesting such a payment plan for his sewer connection.

Mayor Vale, who was away when council adopted the policy, said "I think you are setting a dangerous precedent. You have to charge interest to the property-owner and you have to draw up a special agreement for each one."

The council had intended such a policy only when a new sewer was being constructed. The policy was instigated on the suggestion of town engineer Denne Bosworth during sewer construction in the Connaught Gardens area a few weeks ago. Said Mr. Bosworth, "With this new policy, all street disturbance is over at once. All homes can be connected when the sewer is built."

"And I understand that the policy cannot be applied after the sewer is completed," added the mayor.

Mr. Bosworth and Mr. Bosworth recommended that the Andrew St. resident's application be turned down.

Too Late Now For Roads, 'Nothing Concrete Done' Reeve Evans Charges

Newmarket — The report from the town engineer on his estimated costs for resurfacing, widening and constructing curbs along many of Newmarket's paved streets has been expected at a town council meeting for several months. Reeve Arthur D. Evans' original motion in council recommending procedure toward expenditures for road improvements in 1949 has been by-passed to date.

Interrupting a long discussion on sidewalk repairs at the council meeting on Monday night, Mr. Evans said that it would be too late now to do anything about street improvements this year. With exasperation Mr. Evans said, "All kinds of time has been wasted this year and we have not done anything concrete yet about road improvements."

Aurora—The regular monthly meeting of the Presbytery of East Toronto here saw the resignation of two ministers accepted. Rev. W. M. MacKay of Knox Presbyterian church, Agincourt, tendered his resignation following 42 years ministerial service. Synodical superintendent of missions for Northern Ontario and Manitoba for 17 years, Rev. MacKay had served as minister at Knox church for three and a half years. During this time the church became self-sustaining and built a manse. The resignation was also received of Rev. J. E. Paulin upon completion of 40 years ministerial service. A veteran of the Battle of Vimy Ridge, Rev. Paulin has served as minister at Rosedale Presbyterian church, Toronto, for 21 years. Both resignations were accepted as of the end of September.

'Sympathetic Englishman' Sends Griffiths $50

Newmarket — The Griffiths Fund has been substantially increased by a $50 donation from someone in Newtonbrook who signed his letter as "An Englishman who knows the value of sympathy and help." The fund has been established to assist a young English immigrant, Bob Griffiths, who fractured his neck, and his fiancée, Dorothy Roberts, become established again. Knowing no other means of making a living except farming, Bob's situation is made difficult by his injury which will prevent him from doing heavy work. The young couple are at present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnston on Gorham St. The Johnstons not only gave the couple assistance at the time of the accident early in the summer, but have taken them into their home during the period of Bob's convalescence. Other contributions have been received: $4 from Leslie Smith, $1 from Mrs. Fred Webster, $1 "in loving memory of my parents who were British immigrants years ago," $5 from "a sympathizer in Aurora," $5 from F. N. Chandler, $2 from two English girls. Others wishing to assist the young couple may leave their contributions at The Era and Express. The fund total acknowledged in the Era and Express now exceeds $100.

See End To Delay As Debentures On Rink OK'ed

Newmarket—Work will start on the Newmarket arena within a "very few days", chairman of the ways and means committee, Fred S. Thompson, said last night. His announcement followed word that verbal approval to the debenturing of the cost of arena renovations and improvements had been given by the municipal board.

Pipe for Ice Plant Arrives at Aurora, Allays Fear of Delay

Aurora—A large quantity of piping arrived in Aurora early this week. Taken to the arena where it was dumped on the lawn, it gave the people of Aurora their first visual evidence of progress in the installation of artificial ice in the Aurora memorial arena.

Last April the ratepayers approved council's proposed expenditure on artificial ice installation and arena renovation. Thereafter, occasional news items told of the changes and progress made as plans were prepared for their final draft. With the passing of the summer season, feeling grew strong among a number of citizens' lation. However, fears should now be allayed, and as the daily progress of the work is noted, there will be a general appreciation of the time and effort spent by both the council and the rink committee in the planning of this highly popular municipal project.

The cost of the artificial ice plant only, an estimated $30,000, will be raised by public subscription. Over $12,000 has been contributed towards the fund already. Canvassing for the balance has been resumed and it is anticipated that the fund objective will be quickly reached. The cost of installing the ice plant has been greatly reduced by the offers of time, money and labor by individuals and by the Canadian Hoffman Machinery Corporation through its general manager, Dewey Kuhns. Changes to the arena include the renovation of the entrance and locker rooms, and the placing of seats along the north side.

It is pointed out that had the whole cost of arena improvements and the installation of the ice plant been assumed by the town, it would have meant a debenture cost of over $60,000, the equivalent of a mill and a half on the tax rate. Through contributions of individuals, the cost to the town has been reduced to $25,000.

All that remains now is the third reading of the town by-law to complete the legal requirements of the town's contribution, and the completion of the canvass to pay for the ice plant.

Armitage Walks Said 'Worst' Part Of Subdivision

Newmarket—The Era and Express toured the Armitage Heights subdivision last night to examine sidewalks that were in the bad books of town council Monday night.

The general appearance of the walks does not compare with those built from each house by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. There were some cracks where a truck had been driven over the walks, according to one resident. Many of the cross lines which mark off the concrete in blocks were crooked. One housewife said she swept the sidewalk in front of her house and the surface peeled off. This might have been caused by bad weather, one resident said.

In many places the clay had washed from under the concrete during recent rains and if much more is washed out, one will be able to see under them. Whether the sidewalks will crack and sink in another year is a question but to the layman's eye, it would appear that they will not last long under the present conditions.

"I protested when the original motion was made," declared Deputy-Reeve Spillette, "and I recommended a local improvement plan; but if we adopt this policy, construction won't get under way this fall because we have to advertise for tenders again."

Then Mayor Vale declared that in his original motion he had used the words replacing, repairing, and not constructing sidewalks which would apply to building new ones. In order to sidestep naming a policy for new sidewalk construction, the mayor suggested omitting the word "constructing" from the by-law and to go ahead on debentures for repairing and replacing on the general town expenditures. "We can pass this by-law and decide on a new policy for payment of new sidewalks later."

But we have been promising to have in the Connaught Gardens sub-division for new sidewalks for years. Difficultly in getting a cement held us up before. Now we won't get them in this year and we promised to do it as soon as we could," said Frank Bowser. What is known among councilors as "that popular motion" brought an adjournment. A meeting has been set for next Monday night.

Seek Regulation Of Land Sales

"There is a pressing need for some form of by-law that will regulate the sale of land in this township," said Clerk John Crawford before the Whitechurch township council on Saturday during a light session so far as business is concerned.

Mr. Crawford laid before the council a by-law drafted by the township solicitor, entitled "Land Restriction By-law of lots less than ten acres without a Registered Plan."

He asked council to give it two readings, then submit it to the Ontario Municipal Board, but Reeve Ed. Logan, who said he favored the by-law, asked that it be held up for a special meeting on the ground that two members of council were absent. Councillor Fred Timbers and Deputy-Reeve Ivan McLaughlin, who had asked to retire earlier in the meeting to attend other pressing engagements. The special meeting will be called this week.

If the by-law is finally approved and becomes law, no person may sell lots in the township without first obtaining a registered plan.

At the present time there is no satisfactory way to describe them. Metes and bounds is a way that the average man cannot understand. If the lots sold are on a plan they are sold by number and the description is simple for township officials to locate the properties.

Councillors Sid Legge and Richard Bayeroff agreed to the special meeting without commenting on the by-law at this time.

Building inspector and township assessor Fred Cummings told the council that the increasing activity in real estate throughout the township could be gathered from the fact there had been 165 building permits

THROUGH CHEMISTRY

"Chemistry?"

... I KNOW HOW TO SPELL IT!

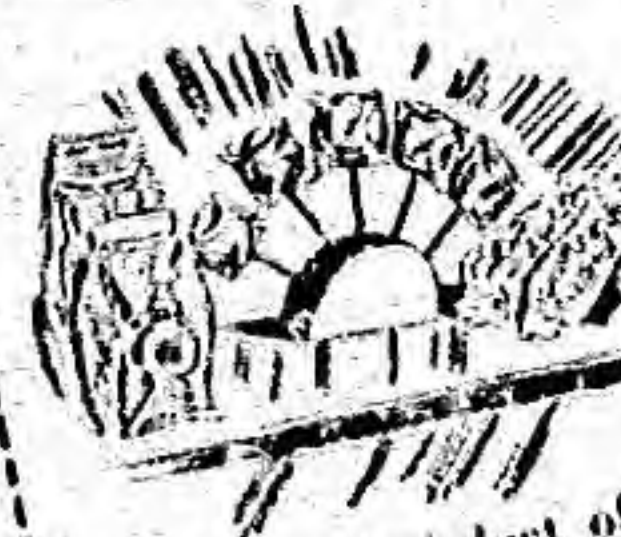

WITH LITTLE GIRLS, chemistry is just a collection of letters. To them it's smart to be able to put them together correctly. But chemistry means much more than just a classroom spelling triumph.

A turn of the tap brings water purified by chemistry. The farmer grows good things to eat because his land is fertilized by chemistry. Frocks and other wearing apparel are coloured with dyes; their fabrics are improved by chemical treatment. Chemistry helps make many other things... brushes, paint, book bindings, "Cellophane", nylon. Those colourful, useful plastics are also products of this great science.

And it's going to make others, for the chemical industry is always forging ahead on the trail of newer and better things... with the C-I-L. Oval as the symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

For instance!

"CELLOPHANE"

THE SMART, modern packaging material that protects foods, cosmetics, fabrics and so many other things, shows them to advantage at the same time. "Cellophane" is a typical product of Chemistry, made by Canadian Industries Limited, Head Office, P.O. Box 10, Montreal.

Diversion channels were dug at the farm of Heber Down by three types of machines. Shown here is a terracer, designed especially for this type of work. Motor graders and one-way discs were also used.

Practise the Theory As Farm Converted To Modern Methods

The first conservation day in Canada was observed Thursday on the farm of Heber Down about four miles west of Brooklin. Over 10,000 farmers from all parts of Ontario saw the principles of conservation applied to the needs of this farm. Farm improvements that might normally take from ten to 12 years were accomplished in ten to 12 hours.

Premier Leslie Frost, in addressing the gathering, called attention to a few of the great changes of the times. Said he, "We live in a different day than did our forefathers. Ontario will soon cross the four and a half million mark in inhabitants. Science must play an increasingly great part in the development of our natural resources. This it has done in the development of the great paper, pulp and mining industries of the north; this it is doing in the ever spreading service of hydro electric throughout the province. What is taking place here today is just the beginning of what must take place in connection with Ontario agriculture. Our whole policy must be to improve and retain the productive power of our soils."

Colonel the Hon. T. L. Kennedy, minister of agriculture, was at his best in talking to the farmers as they witnessed some of the newest in soil management. Not only were basic principles of improvement being put into force on the farm but attention was given to the home which typified the necessary improvements to make a farm home attractive so that the whole important occupation of farming may be set out in its proper light. Art Martin, the director of weeds, seeds and crops branch, the department of agriculture, Toronto, pointed out that much preparation had been given to the day by over 50 local leaders of agriculture co-operating with the Ontario department of agriculture, the Ontario Agricultural College and the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

Conservation Committee

Among the visitors to the demonstration were Fletcher S. conservation. Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of the dominion experimental farms, presented enlightening comments on the whole subject of conservation as it applied to Canadian agriculture.

The Heber Down Farm was peculiarly suitable for the demonstration.

The land on the north-east side of the farm is 80' higher than that toward the stream into which the water drains on the other side of the farm. The distance from one side to the other is approximately 80 rods. While this distance provides ample fall for good drainage it also has provided throughout the decades past splendid opportunity for run-off of heavy rain fall carrying some of the precious six inches of soil on which the productivity of our Canadian farms depend.

Record of Run-Off

Before operations began there stood a hedge of some 10 to 50 years of age running from the front to the back of the farm along the site of the old lane. This was thickly wooded with chokecherries, buckthorn, elms and a mass of shrubs. The soil which had washed down from the hill tops had been stopped by the hedge and the hedge row was actually two to three feet higher in many places than the land on either side.

A new plan to prevent the loss of valued precipitation and soil started with the structure of a terrace around the face of the higher land. This terrace was constructed simply by the throwing up of a bank of soil sufficiently high so that it stopped the down rush of water and led it to two definite outlets. These were diversion channels or drainways which are already growing grass and legume mixtures. They are rough graded to the centre and lead down to the drainage-outlet. In cases of extreme downpours the excess water flows down these grass waterways with a minimum of injury to the soils.

The outstanding event was the removal of the hedge-row. This was probably one of the most spectacular of the day. Nine huge bulldozers were at work on the hedge row and in other sections of the farm. These giant machines took the trees to an appointed place where the larger wood was quickly cut up by power saws and the lighter trash was prepared for burning. Some of the rocks in the hedge row were brought to the barnyard as was necessary soil to greatly improve this important approach.

To Retain Organic Matter

The objective of the whole prerequisite of much important organic matter in the soil. Organic matter in the soil is a prerequisite of much importance as was pointed out by Prof. N. J. Thomas of the Ontario Agricultural College. It gives to the soil the power to catch and hold moisture and retain plant food. Organic matter binds soil together and prevents blowing of lighter soil. On heavy soil it opens soil assisting aeration. Organic matter provides the location for the growth of bacterial life in the soil.

Now to aid in all this endeavor to retain moisture and organic matter the engineers had laid out the fields in strips to practice what was called strip cropping when the land was plowed and filled on the contour which means that areas of approximately the same level were worked in the various strips. While this complicates harvesting of crops it performs great and important service by slowing down surface overflow of waters. It catches and holds the waters for crop use and it gives maximum opportunity for the most economical application of manures and fertilizers on the various fields of the rotations that are adopted.

"FARM PESTS HATE SCIENTISTS"

Experimental farms and agricultural colleges are two of the most useful aids that Canadian farmers have in their constant fight against disease-bearing pests. The scientific knowledge gathered and used in a practical way by experts at these institutions is an important factor in keeping farm pests under control and promoting healthy crops.

When you have a difficult farm problem, you can't do better than consult your nearest experimental farm or agricultural college. ## Pages from the Editor's Notebook

We had greatly wanted a copy of the biography, Tom Cullen of Baltimore, by Judith Robinson. Last Tuesday, a copy arrived through the mail with the best wishes of the author. We put the price of the book back in the children's piggy bank and have enjoyed since some of the finest writing in our experience.

We have known Miss Robinson some ten years or so and have always felt she is one of the best Canadian writers but then, we could have been prejudiced because of her sympathetic help and encouragement to a young fellow just entering journalism. She gave us our first newspaper job, reading proofs after school, and her weekly News printed our first published effort, a book review.

But her biography of the Canadian-born doctor who has become famous as surgeon, teacher and citizen is adequate evidence of her abilities. And if there are skeptics, we refer them to the reviews which have appeared in the Toronto papers, unanimous in their praise of her work. It is the only subject all three appear to have agreed upon.

Dr. Tom Cullen was born in Bridgewater, north of Belleville, the son of a Methodist minister. He worked his way through the University of Toronto medical school and after internship, went to Johns Hopkins in Baltimore. There he became famous as a gynaecologist and surgeon, and as author of five authoritative medical books. He taught in Johns Hopkins medical school, was chief of its department of gynaecology until his retirement at 70, yet still found time to serve important public health posts, as well as other public offices.

Tom Cullen is a great man but it is his biographer who occupies us here. Judith Robinson has a unique place in Canadian letters and it is unfortunate she is not better recognized for her accomplishments. The daughter of John "Black-jack" Robinson, for 40 years the colorful editor of the Toronto Evening Telegram, she began her career as a reporter for the old Toronto Globe, was editorial writer and columnist on the Toronto Globe and Mail, did free-lance feature writing, was Ottawa correspondent for Saturday Night, and during the war, founded and edited a weekly journal of political comment, News. Three years ago, she undertook the biography of Tom Cullen.

There are Canadians whose careers have been as full or fuller, their material accomplishments more obvious, than Miss Robinson's, but we doubt if there have been any who brought to their undertakings more intensity of thought and purpose, a finer integrity. Nor have there been any more sympathetic and helpful to young people. She draws aspirants to her as a magnet draws a needle. She has sacrificed much that she might always write with honest conviction and if she were bitter for the moment, the bitterness was always relieved by her natural humor.

She writes with a feeling for the exact word, the exact setting, for her subject. Her knowledge of literature and history is extensive and she employs it well to make her point. Her judgment is not infallible, and the intensity of her purpose in her columns and her opinion pieces often obscured a larger view, but right or wrong, there is nothing average in her work. It is always tailored to the finest specifications but only she could tell of the amount of revision and rewriting necessary to make it so.

Some of the subjects of her political criticisms still heartily dislike her although she has written little of politics for the past three years. In others, she arouses an abiding loyalty. It is impossible to remain indifferent to her presence; her difficulty is that her penetration, and her refusal to compromise limit her opportunities to write her piece.

Although journalism loses if her talents are to be applied to a new form, Canadian literature profits. Tom Cullen of Baltimore is a great man and his biography is a great book. Possibly there are others who might have wed book to subject but none so well as Judith.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

Last Thursday evening Miss Marjorie Boyd entertained at her home, the Bell Telephone girls, in honor of Miss Margaret Gilmour, who has resigned from the staff, according to the files of 25 years ago. Miss Gilmour was presented with a gold pin. An enjoyable evening was spent in games and music.

Misses Dorothy and Lila Thirsk, Oshawa, spent some holidays at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Sarah E. Thirsk, Mount Albert, recently.

Miss Edith McClenny and Miss Gladys Clank of York County hospital, left on Sunday for an eight months' course in New York hospital.

Messrs. C. S. W. Scott, Newmarket, O. J. Silver, Sutton, and T. J. Spaulding, Aurora, are serving on the Grand Jury in Toronto which opened its sessions last Tuesday.

Miss Gertrude Moody, Newmarket, a bride-to-be, was entertained at a kitchen shower by Mrs. C. L. Brown, Toronto. About 25 girls were present.

Master Billy Armstrong, Mount Albert, and Master Harry French, Ottawa, spent the weekend with their aunt, Mrs. H. Harman, Zephyr.

Mr. John Watson, Vancouver, who has been visiting in Queensville, was entertained at the home of his brother, Mr. Walter Watson, before leaving for home. Forty relatives were present at the gathering. This was Mr. Watson's first visit to his boyhood home in 34 years.

The fair grounds are in good shape for the Exhibition next week, according to the files of 50 years ago. The new buildings have all had a coat of paint and the grounds and the inside of the Palace are so changed that they will hardly be recognized. A hippodrome with trick donkey and clown will be a great attraction. The Queen's Own Band of Toronto will give a concert in the skating rink assisted by Mr. Jas. Fax, on Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. Thompson, Lima, Ohio, has been spending the past week with his cousin, Dr. Wesley.

Good market last Saturday and prices were inclined to rise. Eggs sold at 13 and 13½ cents a doz. Butter ranged from 18 to 20 cents a lb. Potatoes were from 50-60 cents a bag and live chickens 30 to 50 cents a pair.

Mr. Wilmet Thompson, Holt, was in town last Monday saying goodbye to his friends before leaving on Tuesday for Indian Head, N.W.T.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. C. Watson took a cruise around Lakes Simcoe and Couchiching last week, remaining with friends in Orillia over Sunday.

Mr. Jas. Wilson, Armada, Mich., oldest brother of Mrs. Fred Saxon, greatly surprised her a few days ago by calling at her home. This is the first visit Mr. Wilson has made to Newmarket since he left 34 years ago.

The Editorials:

School Accomodation

Children of an age normally accepted for entrance into public school are being refused admission because of lack of accommodation. The new public school, construction of which is to begin in a month or so, will not be completed this year.

The school board is being criticized for this but the record indicates the fault lies more with the town council of 1948. The school board made its request for council's permission to build a new school in April of 1948. In the early part of 1949, it was granted.

The construction of a new public school is not easily accomplished. The red tape imposed on local boards brings about lengthy delays; the division of authority between board and council and the technicalities of issuing debentures caused much misunderstanding. These circumstances offer legitimate causes for delay. However, it was equally evident at the time of the board's appearance before the council that these obstacles could be quickly surmounted if the council were indeed determined to assist the school board to the successful conclusion of its arrangements. As it was, the technicalities became excuses for lengthening the delays.

The record clearly indicates that the cause for the school shortage is directly attributable to last year's council leadership.

Brief Points Certain Conclusions

The brief presented from the counties of Peel, Halton and York to the committee on conservation in Brampton on Friday is a credit to all who shared in its preparation. It effectively notes causes and recommends sensible remedies. The recommendations contained in the brief (printed on page 5 of this issue), clearly indicate the thought given to its preparation; their practicality should end the lingering belief among many that conservation is the plaything of theorists.

There is much to discuss in the brief. This reference is confined to the material under the heading of "Soil Depletion". Here, the loss of humus, "the greatest single weakness in the soils of this area", is attributed in part to the sale of manure, sod, hay, straw and grain to urban buyers. The brief says that the farms from which these sales are made are those which have lost their young people, or for other reasons, mainly economic, are not being fully worked. These farms are found in an estimated 25 percent of farms in the three counties whose yields are lower than they were 25 or 30 years before.

A stable livestock industry, which would require a substantial acreage to be kept in sod for pasture and forage crops, and which would provide adequate return of organic matter to the soil in the form of barnyard manure, is also required by the brief as an important part of a soil building program.

A stable livestock industry depends upon stable livestock prices. The encouragement of full time farming and the return of young people to the land are also largely economic problems. The conclusion is inescapable: soil improvement, and indeed the whole of the wider application of conservation practices, rests heavily upon the economic security of the farmer.

The Dollar Crises

The dollar crisis can be stated in many ways. At its simplest, it is caused by the rising exports from the dollar countries to the sterling countries without a corresponding increase in return trade. Canada is exporting more goods to Britain than Britain has the dollars to pay. Britain's exports are low and many of them go to other sterling countries which also lack dollars.

Canada's traditional trade pattern is export to England and import from the United States. England's exports to the United States and its dollar earnings from investment abroad paid Canada's bills to the United States while paying its bill to Canada. England, because of its wartime loss of investments and its lower post-war export rate, has been unable to pay Canada, so Canada has been unable to pay the United States.

Canada and the United States have goods which England and other sterling countries require and which they have been importing with borrowed dollars. The heavy natural endowment of resources in both countries limit their needs from England. And return trade is further discouraged in the United States by heavy tariffs.

The United States in 1948 exported some $8 billions more in goods than it imported. That gap just about sums up the dollar crisis.

What the outcome of the conference in Washington will be no one can say but at least two contributory remedies are obvious: the United States must encourage return trade from Europe by reducing its tariffs, and United States investment abroad must be increased. There are difficulties in both. United States manufacturers would never willingly countenance the entry of competitive goods into the country on terms equal to their own, and heavier investment abroad is discouraged by the United States' tradition of isolationism.

But it is also obvious that the United States, as heir to England's leadership in world trade, must revise its ways in keeping with its position. The sterling countries cannot borrow indefinitely, nor can the United States loan indefinitely. To secure its long range interests, United States must sacrifice some of its immediate advantages.

Time To End 'Filthy Practice'

Dumping untreated sewage into the nearest river or lake is a "filthy practice, quite unworthy of a civilized people". The quotation is from Ernest C. Drury, former premier of Ontario, in an article which appeared in The Era and Express.

Newmarket dumps its sewage into the Holland River and anyone who has seen the effect downstream can feel nothing but shame that our sense of civic responsibility is so retarded. The Holland River is nothing but an open sewer because Newmarket continues to condone a "filthy practice, quite unworthy of a civilized people."

Sooner or later, Newmarket is going to have to build a sewage disposal plant. The growth of the town, if nothing else, makes this inevitable. But is Newmarket, the major centre of North York, priding itself on its leadership, going to wait until forced to act? Forced it will be, to our everlasting shame, if we do not act of our own accord.

Premier Leslie Frost has announced that all pollution of lakes and streams must end within a reasonable time. The brief presented to the conservation committee of the legislature on behalf of York county calls for a halt to pollution. The very threat of health that such a condition represents makes it unquestionable that Newmarket will not be permitted to dump its untreated sewage into the river much longer.

Newmarket can demonstrate its claim to giving leadership by acting of its own initiative, or it can delay until the inevitable day when it is ordered by the authorities to end the "filthy practice, quite unworthy of a civilized people".

A Job For C.N.E.

Fort York is a quarter of a mile east of the Canadian National Exhibition which set an attendance record of well over two million this year. "I doubt if Fort York attracted 40 visitors," Mr. D. Leo Dolan, director of the Canadian Travel Bureau, said in an appeal to C.N.E. directors and service club representatives to give more attention to historical sites.

Kingston has established Fort Henry as a centre of historical interest, and last year, it attracted over 80,000 visitors. The moral is plain enough.

Even if Fort York was ignored, however, the C.N.E. could do something about improving the historical displays on its grounds. More room and more encouragement appear to be the main requirements.

Give Them A Fair Trial

Newmarket will have parking meters on trial in a very short time, according to the decision of council on Monday night. The proposal was introduced by Councillor R. C. Morrison.

Wherever meters have been installed, controversy has been inevitable. The meters have strong supporters, and vocal critics. Several municipalities, skeptical at first, have found the meters of real value in controlling their parking problems. Other municipalities have had them removed after trial.

Newmarket has in various ways attempted to control Main St. parking without too much success in the past. There is no doubt that there has been a great improvement recently with stronger police enforcement, and the availability of parking lots off Main St.

If there is a possibility that parking meters will bring about still further improvement, then by all means they should be given a trial. If they are not practical, it will be quickly found out. A fair trial will show this, but let the trial be approached with an open mind.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

I was in a bilingual district of Quebec last weekend, boss. We know that French Canadian cats seem different because they are more apt to speak French than anything else. Yet some English speaking cats are almost indignant because a French speaking cat speaks French. Did you know that?

Ginger, your bilingual Quebec correspondent, bon vivant, gay rosay (phonetic) and wandering observer found that there are two approaches used by Ontario cats in street conversation when they visit the old province. One school of approach is this, "Hey you, take the marbles out of yer mouth and talk da king's English and don't pretend to me that you don't know how!"

That type considers himself a true blue original Canadian who would call anyone who has a taste bud that strays from mashed potatoes, roast beef and gravy to Italian spaghetti or salami, a foreigner.

The other is a more civilized approach. The addresser who stops the cat on the street and asks the way in French invariably gets an answer in English. Each tries his best in each other's language. I found, boss, that even if you know only two French words, it is best to use them. That's a polite way of telling your fellow Canadian cat that your French vocabulary can be written down on a ten cent piece. He will then feel sorry for you and do his best in English.

What we need in this country is more bilingual cats, I say. There are too many cats like Isabella who say, "There should be one language. They should be made to speak English." To them I say poo poo.

Bilingualism is not impossible. We can't do away with either language and we certainly can't do away with both of them. Bilingualism for stronger unity, I say.

One of my personal underworld reporters who works in a clothing store in this town told me yesterday that he believed that a ring of international bank robbers were busily tunnelling under his store toward the bank vault next door.

I asked him how long this had been going on. "Well, they have been tunnelling for two days now," he said. On a subversive inspection tour at the back of the store we heard hammering, seemingly underground. But ha, ha, it was only a fluke. Carpenters were doing some work in the bank itself and the acoustics of the building made it sound as if it were underground.

So my underground reporter and I abandoned the idea of being in on a direct pipeline to a never-ending flow of cash right under his store. So I did not buy that 1,000 shares of LeDuc oil and he still has another payment to make on an engagement ring.

by "Back Concession" The Top Six Inches

An article in the daily paper comparing motor car costs with steers and hogs says that in 1939, it took 14 steers or 55 hogs to buy a motor car. Today only eight steers or 40 hogs are needed. It says that the motor car has not increased in proportion to other costs.

The writer seemed to be trying to justify the high tariff that the motor industry enjoys. In the same paper an article stated the British export motor cars for June average $962.52 each.

We have no figures on hogs and steers for 1939 but here are some figures on farm costs in 1940: Mixed chop, oats and barley, $25 per ton, in 1940 oats $54, barley $60, an increase of $32 per ton; hog concentrates 1940, $2.70 per 100, 1949, $5.10, increase $2.40; fertilizer 1940, $29.75 per ton, 1949, $40.90, increase $11.15; alfalfa 1940, $13 per bus., 1949, $35.50, increase $20.50; timothy 1940, $4.50 per bus., 1949, $11.50, increase $7. The seeds were all number one guaranteed tested. We do not know the grade of grain. All purchases made from the same grain merchant.

The costs on all commodities have advanced in Canada. We cannot see why the comparison of labor and farmer by a member of motor car industry. The public knows the wage scale of labor. The farmer, by filling in the report for the statistics branch, gives to the public information on his production. What production cost figures we have the public know. It is hard for the farmer to get an average cost of farm produce. Low land will give a good crop in a dry season and nothing in a wet season. We have nothing to hide in production costs. If the figures on British cars are correct it is strange that the retail price is twice the price laid down in Canada. Our friend in his article is far from convincing.

What we must work for in Canada is to get away from discord and discontentment. When a man has youth and health and a job, it is his right to work to support his dependents. Many times people have been classed as lazy when they were in need of medical attention. We as people have a strange streak; if there is anyone in danger from fire or flood, men will risk life and limb. But if for any reason he cannot earn a living we pass it by as his hard luck.

If you speak of communism people become afraid. And the very thing we turn our heads away from is where communism gets a start. When a man finds it hard to make a living or is down and out he is easy prey for those boys that preach communism.

Organizers for communism are smart and are well educated and know the condition of our country. Why should we as a people want to outlaw communism? Outlaw injustice and poverty and you do away with communism. Strange the fear we develop and mostly we don't know why. We call down labor unions and yet there are plenty of firms that have never had any labor trouble. Why pass the buck to some other individual or group? If we get into trouble, don't call someone else red and let it go at that. Try and study and understand.

What does not seem fair is that the farmer must ship his hogs around 200 lbs. The feed they must have can be held off the market. The harder the squeeze play on the farmer the sooner they will take action. The farmer knows what is wrong and what to do. There are none so blind as those who do not wish to see. It is of most importance to everyone in Canada that we keep plenty of livestock on our farms. Cheerio.

BLESSED EVENT?

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

THE OLD HOME TOWN By STANLEY

Foot-Notes

BY WILLIAM FOOTE
AURORA EDITOR

The special council meeting Monday evening at which a petition for the solution of Aurora's tannery odor problem was presented and a special fact-finding committee set up, may well be a glowing page in local history.

For Monday's meeting, aside from everything else, was proof positive of the civic-minded spirit prevalent in Aurora.

Civic-mindedness is not overly plentiful anywhere and is often over-shadowed by individual aspirations and motives. In some instances, it is lacking, not only among the people of a town generally, but even among the representatives of the electorate, the councillors.

Civic-mindedness, or the assumption of municipal responsibility, is the essence of urban life. It isn't just talk and ideas, nor simply turning out to vote, although that is certainly part of it. It's a tangible thing which embraces the whole of community life. It means the sacrifice of time, energy and often money. It means working for the betterment of the community.

But civic-mindedness has other aspects. Its foundation stone is co-operation and understanding. It insists upon the need of getting together and working together. Civic-mindedness in one individual is of no avail if it is not present in those with whom he is forced to consider the problems of municipal life.

This can have far-reaching results in community development and living. For proof we need only cite the rick developments at present taking place in Aurora where much credit is due to the wholehearted, public-spirited efforts of the rick committee members who have given unsparingly of time and effort on behalf of their town and its betterment.

The general spirit of civic-mindedness pervading Aurora was greatly in evidence at Monday's meeting. It was realized that there was a most important municipal problem to be solved and the determination to solve it was expressed by everyone present. The attitude of the council, private citizens and industry is highly commendable.

In passing, we would like to mention briefly a recently formed recreational group. Tentatively called "The Sunshine Group," it is organized to provide the young people of Aurora with regular evenings of dancing and entertainment. To date, these get-togethers have been held in the Aurora Legion Hall. We understand the group's next evening of fun is planned for September 23. We trust that this is just the beginning, and wish this group every success.

The heavy summer traffic is nearly finished. As a consequence, our weekly accident total for Highway 27 will be generally omitted from now on. We hope we will not have to resume it next season.

Definite Policy On Conservation Urged by York

Legislation which would set down conservation policy for the province, the training of field men, and the undertaking of all agriculture conservation by the department of agriculture were recommendations embodied in the brief presented by York, Halton and Peel counties before the select committee of the legislature on conservation in Brampton on Friday.

Separate briefs were prepared by county committees of representatives of interested organizations, and then merged into one for presentation to the select committee. There is little difference among the three counties, all of them sharing the same problems under the same general conditions.

The following are the recommendations contained in the brief under the separate headings:

SOIL DEPLETION

1. That a Soil Conservation Service be inaugurated as an experiment in two or three counties in Western Ontario not later than the fall of 1950 and that such Conservation Service be under the direction of, or linked with, the Agricultural Representative Service.

2. Soil Fertility: That, inasmuch as high soil fertility is not only the basis of profitable agriculture, but also the medium by which the water holding capacity of our soils can be increased and as we believe the greatest weakness in our crop program is in the main due to poor seed mixtures, coupled with faulty rotations, and as more alfalfa and grasses in our meadows and pastures would improve their soil building ability, we would suggest that consideration be given to studying the United States Conservation Policy in respect to grass and clover seed production and use.

3. Contour Plowing and Strip Cropping: That while contour cultivation and strip cropping has its limitations in that it applies only to a small percentage of our land, that the said Act provide for trials, demonstrations and experimental work on contour cultivation and strip cropping.

4. That our soil research workers be requested to study the possibility of inaugurating or discovering a practical and rapid soil test which will measure the organic matter content of soils.

5. That urban centres be required to install sewage disposal plants to avoid pollution of streams and waste of fertilizer elements which should be returned to the land.

6. That, inasmuch as the sale of barnyard manure, sods and top soil for landscape work is contrary to all principles of soil conservation, we recommend that the proposed conservation and Land Use Act provide restrictions to control these practices.

DRAINAGE

1. That the Drainage Acts be revised to prevent the forcing of an open ditch by petition where a land-use survey of the area in question shows that such a ditch to be paid for from public funds would not be in the public interest.

2. That the Tile Drainage Act be revised to provide that, before a township advances money on a drainage loan, the installation of the drains be inspected by a properly qualified drainage engineer such as members of the staff of the Drainage Division, of the Department of Agricultural Engineering at the O.A.C. or the Kemptville Agricultural school.

3. That, inasmuch as it is believed that most of the wells below the escarpment and the sandy ridge crossing York County are fed by springs having their source on this high land which also provide the headwaters of our streams, we believe the whole area should be surveyed by competent engineers. If this supposition is found to be correct, then all strategic points in the area along the escarpment and ridge should be established as a state or provincial forestry area.

4. That, the Drainage Act be revised so that public funds are not utilized in drainage work which is contrary to the public interest or on submarginal land.

5. That, where township, county or provincial machinery can be utilized advantageously, that

Drury Article On Sewage Disposal In Conservation Brief

The Era and Express recently published an article on sewage disposal by Ernest C. Drury, former premier of Ontario. The article was reprinted from the Midland Free Press Herald where it originally appeared. A copy of the article was included in the brief presented to the legislative committee on conservation by the counties of Peel, Halton and York at Brampton on Friday.

the said Act provide for such action.

FLOOD CONTROL

That the main streams of the area be surveyed by competent engineers, following which all strategic points along the streams be established as provincial forestry areas.

REFORESTATION

1. That in certain areas where the reforestation work required is beyond the ability of a county financially, or otherwise, that consideration be given to provincial assistance. To illustrate, may we refer to the Niagara and Hamilton escarpment which passes through the area. Inasmuch as it is generally believed that most of the wells below the escarpment are fed by springs having their source on the escarpment and furthermore as many streams have their headwaters on the escarpment, then we believe the whole area should be surveyed by competent engineers, and if our contention is sound, then all strategic points in the area along the escarpment should be established as a state or provincial forestry area.

2. Inasmuch as it is the practice on the great majority of farms to permit livestock to pasture or run in the farm woodlot, thereby destroying all new tree growth, we would recommend that the proposed Ontario Conservation Policy provide financial assistance to counties which pass a by-law providing financial aid for woodlot fencing.

3. That the present nurseries for providing reforestation stock be enlarged or that additional nurseries be established to take care of the increased demand for trees.

4. That to reduce the present wastage of Christmas trees and the ruthless cutting of same we would recommend that the sale of these trees be placed under license.

5. That where land owners are foresting a substantial area, a mechanical tree planter be made available at a nominal fee.

6. That natural swamp areas be protected from further drainage, if in the public interest, and where necessary, reforested.

GENERAL RECOMMENDATIONS

We would offer the following suggestions and recommendations for the consideration of the Select Committee:

1. That a Provincial Conservation and Land Use Act be enacted at the earliest possible date.

2. That all Conservation work relative to agriculture be undertaken by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

3. In order to carry out a satisfactory conservation program steps must be taken immediately to adequately train personnel as conservation fieldmen embracing the various aspects of the work.

4. That the possibility of utilizing aerial survey technique in making the initial studies be considered.

5. In general, we are opposed to the granting of subsidies as an essential part of any conservation and land use policy in Ontario. It may, however, be necessary or advisable to have some financial help in the making of large scale equipment for contouring, weed control, fertilizer equipment, tree planting, drainage, etc.

6. We feel that there should be a minimum of compulsion and restrictions at the present time. We realize, however, that there will be instances where it is in the public interest to maintain swamps, replant forests where they should not have been cut off, etc., and some type of compensation will be necessary.

NOT EVEN 'TARGET'

London Times Examines Writer In Welfare State

The Times of London shows pardonable concern over the plight of the professional writer in the "Welfare State".

"The professional writer, a difficult chap to please at the best of times, often feels that the architects of the welfare state have hardly given due recognition to his own requirements. Other people's cells seems to be much more lavishly padded than his. Being self-employed, he gets no holidays with pay. If he were to go on strike, no soldiers would be sent to write his books for him at the taxpayer's expense. Arduous though his work, he cannot apply, like the farm laborer, for an increased cheese ration during peak periods of activity; and if he staged a 'go slow' movement, nobody except his bank manager would pay the slightest attention."

"It is true that the BBC makes available to him, as to other toilers, a program called 'Music While You Work', but its effect on his productivity is adverse. Nobody provides him with cheap and well-balanced meals in canteens, builds him recreation grounds, or sends him to the seashore on staff outings. Cartoonists do not portray him as a burly figure resisting—or temporarily succumbing to—the blandishments of agents provocateurs, statisticians do not draw graphs of his output, and nobody has even made a documentary film of his activities. He has not even been allotted a target."

"All the more ardently, therefore, does he now wish that he had been born an Argentinian and could rely for support on the 'Statute for Intellectual Laborers' which President Peron's government has beneficently produced."

Friends, Kin Surprise George West With Party

Armitage — On Sunday afternoon Mr. George West, Yonge St., was taken completely by surprise when about 30 of his friends and relatives gathered in honor of his 86th birthday, which was Friday, Sept. 9.

There were guests from Newmarket, Queensville, Kettleby and Toronto and congratulations were in top place. Mr. West, despite his ripe old age, is still very active and has done all his own gardening, of which he is very proud.

A dainty lunch had been provided, complete to a birthday cake, and it showed the very high esteem in which he is held. He has been promised a bigger and better party on his next birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sheridan and sons, Billy and David, Hamilton, were holiday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Sheridan.

The holidays are over and the old familiar sound of the school bell is heard again. There is an enrollment of 38 pupils this year.

A real community welcome is extended to Mrs. M. Doane and son who are now living in our midst.

Mr. and Mrs. Mumberson of New Lowell were weekend guests at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. Doner.

There was a meeting in the Friends church, Yonge St., Sunday afternoon.

Misses June and Ethel Thompson are spending a holiday with their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Thompson, Chatham.

Mrs. M. L. Cook was hostess at a delightful afternoon tea on Friday in honor of Mrs. C. Reid.

The first meeting of the Armitage Community club will be held at the school on Friday, Sept. 23. Everybody welcome.

Drafts and notes differ in that the former is a written order to pay; the latter is a written promise to pay.

To Our Many Friends

Wally McLeish is leaving us September 17.

We have been unsuccessful so far in our attempts to obtain experienced personell to replace him.

Until we are able to do so, Will Ayrs and myself plus whoever we can get will carry on. So that we may continue to give you the same service as in the past and still have some time off we are going to close Wednesdays at 12.30 p.m. for the afternoon and evening.

May we ask your fullest co-operation in this change of store hours?

Conservation Issues In York, Peel, Halton

"The main problems of the section of Ontario represented by the counties of Peel, Halton and York from a conservation standpoint may be briefly listed as follows:

"Deceased water holding capacity of our soils due to lack of sufficient organic matter.

"Lowered fertility of the soils on a percentage of the farms.

"Gradual lowering of the ground water table—falling springs and streams.

"Erosion, largely sheet, but also some gully erosion."

—From the York, Halton and Peel counties brief to the select committee of the legislature on conservation.

Euchres During Season

Newmarket—The Newmarket division of the Catholic Women's League held the first meeting of the season at St. John's school on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Henry Moore presided over the well attended gathering. The organization decided to hold a series of euchres, two a month, during the winter. The first of these will take place at the school on Thursday, Sept. 22. Plans were completed for the holding of a progressive bridge at St. John's school on Tuesday, Oct. 4.
Refreshments were served at the close of the business session and a social half-hour was enjoyed by the members.

Trinity W.M.S. Auxiliary
Holds Opening Meeting

Newmarket—The Afternoon
Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society of Trinity United church met for the opening meeting of the fall season on Thursday, Sept. 8. Mrs. Morton, the president, reminded the members that during the coming year the 25th anniversary of the United Church of Canada will be commemorated and that all groups will launch out on a new course, using the United Church Book of the Year. Mrs. Winn and Mrs. Stephens took leading parts in the devotional service and Mrs. Maitland gave a brief introduction to the new Study Book, Growing With the Years.

AUDREY EVES WEDS

RAYMOND GLASS

Decorated with autumn flowers and ferns, Queensville United church was the scene of the wedding of Audrey Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Eves, and Mr. Raymond James Glass, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Leonard Glass, on Friday, Sept.
9. Officiating were Rev. E. Warren and Rev. M. Jenkinson.
Mrs. J. L. Smith was organist and the soloist was Mrs. Murray Paris.

Given by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and train and her mother's silk embroidered veil with orange blossoms as a headdress. She carried red roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Marion Eves, in tulle and her niece,
Miss Margaret Cairns, in de-bante blue tulle.

Mr. Audrey Glass, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Mr. Clare Eves and Mr. Leslie Glass.

At a reception at the home of the bride's parents the bride's mother wore a hostess blue crepe dress and the groom's mother wore navy blue crepe.
For travelling the bride wore a matching dress and coat of maple leaf red and navy accessories.

After a motor trip through southern Ontario and the northern States the bride and groom will reside at the groom's farm at King.

FORMER AURORANS

WED IN TORONTO

The marriage of Mrs. Agnes Brown to Mr. Ross Bartram took place Sept. 10 at 7 o'clock in St. Matthew's Anglican church, Toronto. Rev. R. K.
Perdue officiated and Miss Marjory Andrews of Aurora was at the organ.

The bride given in marriage
by Mr. Perry Moore wore a gown of powder blue tulle with matching headpiece and corsage of red roses and white gladioli. Her only attendant, Mrs. Hilda Bull, was in powder blue with matching headpiece and corsage of pink roses and pink gladioli. Mr. Herman Bartram was best man and the ushers were Allan Green and Ronald MacDonald. The reception was held at 167 Coleridge Ave., where the bride's cousin,
Mrs. Harold Bartley, received wearing a grey flowered dress with pink accessories and a corsage of white gladioli and pink roses. The groom's sister assisted wearing a grey crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of white gladioli and red roses.

Out of town guests were present from Aurora, Temperanceville, Maple, Oakville, Willowdale, and Smith Falls.

—Mrs. Suzanne Littman and Miss Winnifred Nell, New York,
are visiting Mrs. E. Mitchell.

Newmarket—The date for the bazaar sponsored by the Home and School Association has been set for Thursday, Dec. 1.
This bazaar is open to everyone interested in offering homemade articles for sale. The association will retain 15 percent of each sale for the piano fund, while the donor will receive the remainder.

The committee in charge of the plans is anxious to know what type of work will be offered for sale and an approximation of the quantity so that anyone who is planning to enter articles in the sale is requested to either contact Mrs.
Ted Mitchell, phone 736, directly or let them know at the Sept.
27 Home and School meeting.

The idea behind this venture is not only to hold a first-class bazaar prior to the gift buying time for Christmas, but to encourage a return to the cottage crafts in Newmarket. Here is an opportunity for the expert needlewoman or other craft worker to present her work to the public with the possibility of some permanent craft shop outlet being provided for presenting handcrafts to the purchasing public.

"The number of persons who have already signified their interest in the bazaar and their intention of entering items for sale has been encouraging, but we want more," said Mrs. Mitchell. "Over 30 women were taught to smock at the lessons given by the Handcraft Club
under the direction of Mrs. H.
Bennett. There is a tremendous demand for smocked articles at the present time. That is just one of the lines of work which could be entered," she concluded.

Honor Mission Worker

Aurora—On Thursday, a tea was given at the Trinity rectory in honor of Mrs. E. Thompson, one of the parish, who is doing mission work in Boyle, Alta.
Mrs. Thompson spoke to the ladies on her work.
A social hour was held at the close of the meeting.

LOIS SISMAN WEDS

PETER F. BARKER

Aurora United church was decorated with gladioli and dahlias for the marriage September 10 of Lois Patricia Sisman, daughter of Mrs. Sisman, Aurora, and the late William Joseph Sisman, son of Mrs. Barker, Aurora, and the late Frank C. Barker. Rev.
H. H. Howey officiated. Donald Watson sang and Lily Harris was at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage
by her brother, John E. Sisman, was gown in blush satin styled with bertha neckline, lace yoke and full skirt with bustle back.
Her full-length veil was held by a bonnet headpiece and she wore a cascade of roses. The bride's sister, Mrs. D. E. Clarke, as matron of honor, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. E. Sisman, as bridesmaid, were gown in rose silk tulle with full skirt and fitted boleros. Their bonnet headpieces were of the same material and they wore cascades of gladioli and roses.

William Cooper attended the groom. Douglas E. Clark, Gerald Barker and Frank Walking served as ushers.

The bride's mother received in royal blue crepe with black accessories and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore dusty rose with wine accessories and corsage of pink roses. For travelling the bride chose a beige wool dress with green accessories. After a wedding trip through the New England states,
the couple will reside in Aurora.

Boxtop Collection
For Save Children Fund
Well Under Way

Newmarket—The children in the Newmarket schools have already begun their collection of box tops which will be converted into pennies for the Save the Children Fund. Sponsored by the Home and School group which is organizing the drive in town, the campaign is asked to begin saving the boxtops from Oxydol, Chipso, Ivory Flakes, Ivory Snow
and the wrappers from Cam-say soap.

These are to be given to school children who will turn them into the schools and later they will be refunded by Proctor and Gamble who are offering one cent for each box top or two soap wrappers. Mr. H. A. Jackson has given permission for the collection and promised the support of the staff for this children's effort to aid other children in war ravaged Europe on behalf of the public schools and St. John's school has also promised its active support.

Urges Public Subscribe
To Hansard Reports

Another campaign is being conducted by the King's Printer in an effort to encourage the public in subscribing to Hansard and other official papers, issued during each session of Parliament.

Although Canadians are taking more and more interest in politics, a great number still do not even know about Hansard. When it comes to judge the work being done by their representatives, Hansard tops all sources of information. As a verbatim report of the proceedings of the House of Commons, it provides with plain facts, offering little chance of misunderstanding.

S.S. RESUMES

Aurora—On Sunday, Sept. 11, Trinity Anglican Sunday-school resumed its classes at 11.30.
Although there was not as large an attendance as was hoped for,
all seemed eager to get started.
A very interesting course of studies has been planned for this fall and winter.

W. A. MEETING

Queensville—The September meeting of the W.A. was held in the church basement on Tuesday. Dr. Margaret Arkinstall led in the devotional period.
Plans were made to send used clothing, etc., to European countries. Hostesses for the supper were Mrs. Jacob Smith, Mrs.
Stallbras, Mrs. Aylward, Mrs.
Roy Watts.

DYKE-MCDONALD

WEDDING HERE

Gladioli decorated St. Andrew's Presbyterian church for the wedding of Christina, Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
D. Roy McDonald, and Howard
Delbert Dike, son of Mrs. B.
Dike and the late Mr. Dike, Pine Orchard, on Sept. 3, 1919. Rev.
M. E. R. Boudreau officiated.
Miss Mae Patterson was at the organ, and Mrs. Leonard Little sang.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a gown of ice blue satin and headpiece of orange blossoms on a shoulder-length veil. She carried a cascade of roses and gladioli.
Mrs. John Nunn acted as matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. A. M. Baxter and Mrs. W. D. McCallum. They wore blue crepe and carried nosegays.

The best man was Mr. William Dike, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Mr. Edwin Tid-
man and Mr. Donald McCallum.
At a reception at the home of
the bride's parents, the bride's mother wore mauve with black accessories and the groom's mother wore grey with black accessories.

For travelling the bride chose a navy blue ensemble. Following a wedding trip to northern Ontario the couple took up residence in Pine Orchard.

Compound interest and advertising are very similar; the longer they are continued, the better the results.

The first railway in Canada was built in 1835 between La-pierre and St. Johns, Quebec, a distance of 16 miles.

The average Canadian yield of maple sugar generally amounts to about 2,600,000 gallons, in terms of syrup.

Horticultural Society
Reviews WorkBulbs in Schools Part of Juvenile Program of Hort. Soc.

Newmarket—For the third successive year the Newmarket Horticultural Society is donating bulbs to the four elementary schools in Newmarket. These bulbs to the value of $50 are divided among the 20 classrooms so that all the school children may learn not only the proper method of growing bulbs indoors,
but will early learn to love flowers and enjoy their color through the drab winter months.

The flowers are grown in the classrooms, thus helping to brighten the window ledges there and the teachers co-relate lessons in science with the project. In charge of the society's juvenile committee is John O'Halloran. His committee has been active this season having sponsored art contests in all but the Grade 8 classes this spring and a wild flower conservation essay contest in that grade. Also annuals were provided by the society for planting at the Stuart Scott school grounds. Annuals were planted by the civic improvement committee at the rest rooms, Botsford St., the registry office and the veterans' memorial, D'Arcy St.

A nominating committee of Mrs. John Meyer, Mrs. Charles
Harman, Mr. Reinke and Mrs. N.
Ion was appointed to bring in a slate of officers for the October 13 executive meeting.

Members of the society will be able this year to purchase their bulbs for fall planting through the society at a ten percent discount. Eugene McCaffrey, purchasing convenor, is the man to contact for the particulars. All orders must be in before November 10. The first shipment of bulbs is expected to arrive approximately October 15. Mr. Mc-Caffrey said. This offer is open to society members only.

Bulbs which may be purchased at this ten percent discount include hyacinths, tulips, daffodils, narcissus, crocuses, in fact all the bulbs for fall planting. This is one of the many public services which the organization provides for the community.

SQUIRES' TREASURE
GOLDEN GLOW
says

I had a very pleasant surprise the other day when Mr. Wesley Squires called me up to say he had something he felt sure I would like to see—and I assure you he made no mistake, for it was a treat indeed!

Mr. Squires, Main St. north, knows his antiques and we have often had a chat on one thing and another along that line, but this time it was somewhat different to priceless old china, antique furniture, crystal, old-time glassware and delightful

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR, BOWMAN

'Ted Won't' Encouraged By Parents' Inconsistency

Ted, two and a half years old, has passed from the cute "No" stage to the difficult and trying "Ted won't" stage.

"Doe" meaning "No" was the first word Ted said aside from the usual Mama, Dada and Bye-bye speech of babies. Ted's "Doe" was an answer to all questions and didn't prove disturbing until he started sulking his actions to the word. What was in the beginning a cute little stage would have been replaced by other stages through which the child passed if less attention had been given to the matter. As it was, Ted simply graduated from "Doe" to "Ted won't."

When Ted first began using the word "Doe," his parents were pleased because he was asserting himself at an early age. They spent much time asking him all varieties of questions just to hear him give his negative answer. It became quite a quiz game with everyone who knew Ted.

Now, a year later, instead of cute, the child appears and sounds to be a spoiled and disobedient youngster. "Ted won't" is the answer for all requests. No disciplinary measures have been effective according to Ted's father, who has seemingly exhausted his supply of punishments.

Ted's father is a business executive who is accustomed to giving orders and having them carried out by his employees. However, if he had been as inconsistent with his staff as he has been with his son — joking and playing tricks at their expense one moment, then lording it over them the next — his word wouldn't have meaning for them either.

Early in life, the child should begin the process of learning to obey those in authority. Even as laws are made to safeguard citizens, so should parents requests be made with a view toward protecting their children's health and future happiness.

In view of the issue made regarding Ted's disobedience, it will take considerable time to train Ted to respect his father's word. The first step might well be to eliminate all commands and minimize the number of requests — thus eliminating occasions to use "Ted won't." After a time, the child will forget his automatic answer to every suggestion.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE E. ION

A course designed to foster understanding between teachers and the Home and School Association was presented this summer to about 1,000 teachers who attended summer school in Toronto, London and Ottawa. The course, which is obligatory for all public and separate school teachers working for their first-class certificates, was presented by Mrs. M. D. McLellan, Brantford, convener of leadership training for the Ontario Federation of Home and School Associations. Mrs. McLellan is well known to Home and School workers in Newmarket.

Outlining the work of the course, she said: "We suggest methods for establishing good working relationships between the association and the school and we try to help the teacher give direction." In addition to lectures, the course presented the teachers with an opportunity to discuss their personal problems.

This is the second year the Ontario department of education has presented such a course, implying the department's awareness of the program of the Home and School Association.

"Education for family life is no longer considered a frill but is looked upon as a necessary part of community planning," writes Kay Perry in a recent article on the basis for a happy family life. "Social welfare agencies in Toronto feel that the schools, both in their day and night classes, and Home and School Associations could do much along constructive lines in promoting better family relations by giving teen-agers and young people a modern slant on environmental, economic and emotional problems.

"They point to the fact that one out of every three cases handled in the agencies concerns differences between husband and wife and has reached the serious stage of contemplated divorce or separation. From these figures their major conclusion is that parents must be taught that problems arising in a marriage, whether they spring from either party or from the children, can't be dealt with in the same manner that they were even 20 years ago.

"Prominent agencies such as the Neighborhood Workers, Jewish Family and Child Service and the Catholic Welfare Bureau say people tend to introduce into their married life much of what they found in the marriage of their parents.

"But today's parents are faced with new problems such as dwindling savings, inability to provide properly for their families, poor housing conditions, trends which are resulting in increased anxiety and tension. Often this results in alcoholism and a disregard for home responsibilities. Inability to provide adequate food and clothing for their children because of the high cost of living, is creating anxiety in many parents. Emotional problems are arising in marriages because all forms of recreation costing money are being curtailed.

"An attitude of resentment is developing among families forced to live under impossible housing conditions, with little hope for future improvement. Parents in these circumstances complain of delinquent children who are actually getting into trouble or who just don't want to bother coming home except to sleep.

"One social worker felt that courses in pre or post-marriage counselling would help many children to lead more secure and comfortable lives with a feeling of worthwhileness and self-confidence. She said, 'When many cases come to us the clients are all set to break up their homes. In the end the individuals are able to see their own faults and are prepared to start anew, but in the meantime the children have gone through years of unhappiness which might leave them with permanent personality defects. Proper counselling in these cases might have prevented the whole situation.'

"Another social worker felt that practical courses in homemaking as well as education, along emotional lines, were necessary to promote better family relations.

"She said further that young people today are not trained to look after homes, 'I think a lot of the difficulties would be wiped out if women knew how to cook and sew properly, to budget and make clothes, to do home nursing and decorating. And young men should learn to use their hands.'

News of the W.I. In North York

News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

The August meeting of Queensville branch was held at the home of Mrs. Willard Cole. The roll-call was well responded to by "what I would try to accomplish if I were a girl again." Mrs. Elton Armstrong, district president, visited us and gave a fine address. Mrs. Sinclair, Mount Albert, district secretary-treasurer, gave a report of the Guelph conference. The Girls' club members gave the program of demonstrations, readings and several piano numbers. Those taking part were Doris McIntosh, Evelyn English, Betty Goode, Shirley Cole and their leaders, Margaret Morton and Marian Eves. Little Nancy Cole favored us with a recitation.

The Vandorf branch will hold its meeting in the Vandorf hall Wednesday evening, Sept. 21, at 8 p.m. An illustrated travelogue of South Africa will be given by Mrs. Wilcox of Aurora, with Bogartown, Pine Orchard, Gormley and Aurora branches as guests. Mrs. R. H. Corner, district president, will also be at this meeting. Lunch will be served by the members of the Vandorf branch.

The Mount Albert branch met on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Murray Stokes with 20 ladies present. The president, Mrs. G. G. Macpherson, was in the chair. Mrs. H. Harmon and Mrs. Geo. Walsh were appointed delegates to the Toronto convention. It was decided to secure the crest to have proper stationery for the society. The Institute will hold a card party in the hall the first Thursday of each month, also to have the annual Halloween party for the community in the hall. Please remember the appeal for clean, old white goods to be used for cancer pads. These may be left at Mrs. Macpherson's home.

As it was "Grandmothers' meeting," the program followed along that line with Mrs. Jas. Thompson giving a reading, "Grandmothers' Parlor is now the Living-room." Mrs. M. Stokes gave "Your Baby and Mine are Grandmother's Now," and Mrs. Oliver sang "Silver Threads Among the Gold." For the younger generation Beth Theaker played two piano numbers. Mrs. Harmon reported on the district annual. Mrs. Sinclair read a letter from the provincial president, "What A Good Member Should Be," and an especially nice meeting came to an end with the usual social time.

The W.I. of Mount Albert is sponsoring a short course in sewing from September 26 to 30. Any who are interested please contact Mrs. G. Macpherson or Mrs. Arnot Harrison by Saturday, Sept. 17.

The Zephyr branch will meet Wednesday, Sept. 21, for an afternoon meeting in the community hall, Entertain Belhaven Institute. Hostesses are members of Zephyr Women's Institute.

The Elmhurst branch met at the home of Mrs. W. C. Lunn on Wednesday, Sept. 7. Because quite a number were away on holidays, there were only 12 present. In the absence of our secretary, Mrs. Lunn recorded the minutes. The roll call was answered by a household hint, riddle, or five cents. "Canada's Mother of Courage," the story of Dorothy Bowman of Newmarket, was read to us by Mrs. T. Lawndes and was enjoyed by all. It was decided that we take a bus trip to the Winter Fair. We are to have Mrs. Edwards speak to us on Oct. 5 in the school house at 8 p.m. Notice of this meeting will be posted later. Mrs. Lunn gave a report of the convention which was held in Queensville. Later refreshments were served.

The Bogartown branch will meet on Tuesday, Sept. 20, pro-

Peach Chiffon Pie - Wow!

Peach chiffon pie is an easy-to-prepare dessert which is ideal for party fare. They are "baked" in the refrigerator and cut easily into wedges for serving. With a garnish of whipped cream or slices of fruit added just before it is served, peach chiffon pie will make a grand entrance.

Here are three different recipes for chiffon pie. The first is made with a smooth custard base and is not as rich as the other two. The second uses both egg whites and a small amount of whipping cream to give a light, airy chiffon texture to the filling. The last recipe is a rich creamy pie and uses a larger amount of the whipping cream. All of them are good and while the peaches are in season is the time to try them.

PEACH CHIFFON PIE (No. 1)
1 Tbsp. gelatine
1/4 Cup cold water
3 Egg yolks
1/4 Cup sugar
1 1/2 Cups peach pulp
Few drops of almond flavoring or 1 tsp. lemon juice
3 Egg whites
1/4 Tsp. salt
1/4 Cup sugar
1 Nine-inch baked pie shell
Soak gelatine in the cold water for 5 minutes. Beat egg yolks slightly, add the 1/4 cup sugar and the peach pulp. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until of thick custard consistency, about 6-8 minutes. Add the softened gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Chill until thick and syrupy. Beat egg whites and salt until the mixture stands in peaks, then beat in 1/4 cup sugar to make the meringue. Fold into the peach mixture and pour into the baked pie shell. Place in the refrigerator to set. Just before serving, top with whipped cream and garnish with sliced peaches, if desired. Yield: one nine-inch pie.

PEACH CHIFFON PIE (No. 2)
1 Tbsp. gelatine
1/4 Cup cold water
1 1/2 Cups peach pulp
1/4 Cup sugar
Few drops almond flavoring or 1 tsp. lemon juice
1/4 Cup whipping cream
2 Egg whites
1/4 Tsp. salt
1/4 Cup sugar
1 Nine-inch pie shell
Soak gelatine in the cold water for 5 minutes. Heat the peach pulp and the 1/4 cup of sugar to boiling point. Add soaked gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Add almond flavoring. Chill until mixture is thick and syrupy. Whip cream and fold into peach mixture. Make a meringue of the egg whites, salt and the 1/4 cup sugar and fold into peach mixture. Pour into baked pie shell and chill until set. Yield: one nine-inch pie.

PEACH CHIFFON PIE (No. 3)
1 Tbsp. gelatine
1/4 Cup cold water
1 1/2 Cups peach pulp
1/4 Cup sugar
1 Tsp. salt
Few drops almond flavoring or 1 tsp. lemon juice
1/4 Cup whipping cream
1 Seven-inch baked pie shell
Soak gelatine in the cold water for 5 minutes. Combine peach pulp, sugar and salt and heat to boiling point. Add soaked gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Add almond flavoring. Chill until mixture is thick and syrupy. Whip cream and fold into peach mixture. Pour mixture into baked pie shell and chill until set. Yield: one seven-inch pie.

VISIT FORMER PASTOR
Newmarket — On Sunday about 42 people journeyed to Niagara Falls by bus to visit Grace Associated Gospel church and the pastor, Rev. Alex. B. Stein, former pastor here, and Mrs. Stein and John. After the morning service the afternoon was spent sight-seeing and following the evening service the group saw the illumination of the falls before returning home. ## The Common Round ...

DEMONSTRATIONS

One ceases to wonder why foreigners consider English a difficult language when you penetrate some of its mysteries and only feel amazed that they do so well. Take a few instances of words that are so familiar to us that we use them instinctively and then try to imagine one unacquainted with the language try to untangle words which sound exactly the same, but which, if used in the wrong place, would make hash of any sentence.

We say that a king reigns, we say we use reins on a horse, and we also say we welcome the spring rains.

But come to our title—demonstration. We have demonstrations of joy as when we gain a victory; we have demonstrations of hate where people lose their heads, and demonstrations against certain wrongs, real or fancied, are of common occurrence and where someone living in, and benefiting by, a country expresses his disapproval of it and entire sympathy with an alien government as in the case of Paul Robeson, there are bound to be demonstrations of disapproval.

But there are pleasanter and less mighty forms of that overworked word. I was invited the other day by Mrs. J. Preston to attend a Wear-Ever demonstration at her home. There had been one at the Greenwood home a few nights before which I was unable to attend, so I went, like the old nursery rhyme puts it, "to see what I could see, and I saw plenty."

If one could have made a clean sweep of all the brushes, cleaning aids and polishers on the virtues of which the demonstrator, Mr. Tate, waxed so eloquently, one's house, its furnishings and one's person would be forever sparkling, glowing and immaculate. And let me say here, that there were some brushes that did wonderful things. One that took my fancy was made in sort of compartments to go between the spindles on the stairs. Now this is a standing grievance of mine to have to poke between the spars, but I had never seen the remedy before. There were mops that didn't drip and dusters that retain dust till the job was completed. I was glad of a cup of tea and a sandwich to brush (?) away an overload of information. There was even an ingenious arrangement to enable you to take a shower when your house was not equipped with this breath-taking apparatus.

Every demonstration, I suppose, has its lesson to teach, whether it be a friendly one, like this, or one of grievance and hatred. I learned that to wash the wood of one's furniture with equal parts of vinegar and water before applying furniture polish was an excellent way to get good results. That to wash one's fine feathery dusters in warm water and Lux, then to rinse and thoroughly dry and lastly, to shake patiently over steam till light and feathery again, would be to have a new duster.

So we 15 women looked, listened and learned—such was one demonstration.

How many things made of aluminum can you see in a kitchen?

"Well," you say, "it depends on the kitchen."

Right! The more modern the kitchen, the more aluminum you will see. For aluminum is the modern metal. It has so many advantages. It is light, strong, good-looking, will not rust. No wonder more and more people want more and more things made of it.

Not only things for the kitchen. In fact, more than 1,000 Canadian firms are shaping aluminum into products as big as railway cars, as small as hair curlers.

All this means a lot of work for Canadians. There are 15,000 people on the Alcan payroll. Then, too, there are all the fifty-odd thousand people who make the thousand-and-one aluminum articles which you see in the stores.

Yes, aluminum means a lot to you and to Canada!

Weekly Garden-Graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Canadian

Watch, and when the leaves of deciduous trees begin to fall following sharp frosts, tulip planting time is at hand. This sign holds good in most sections.

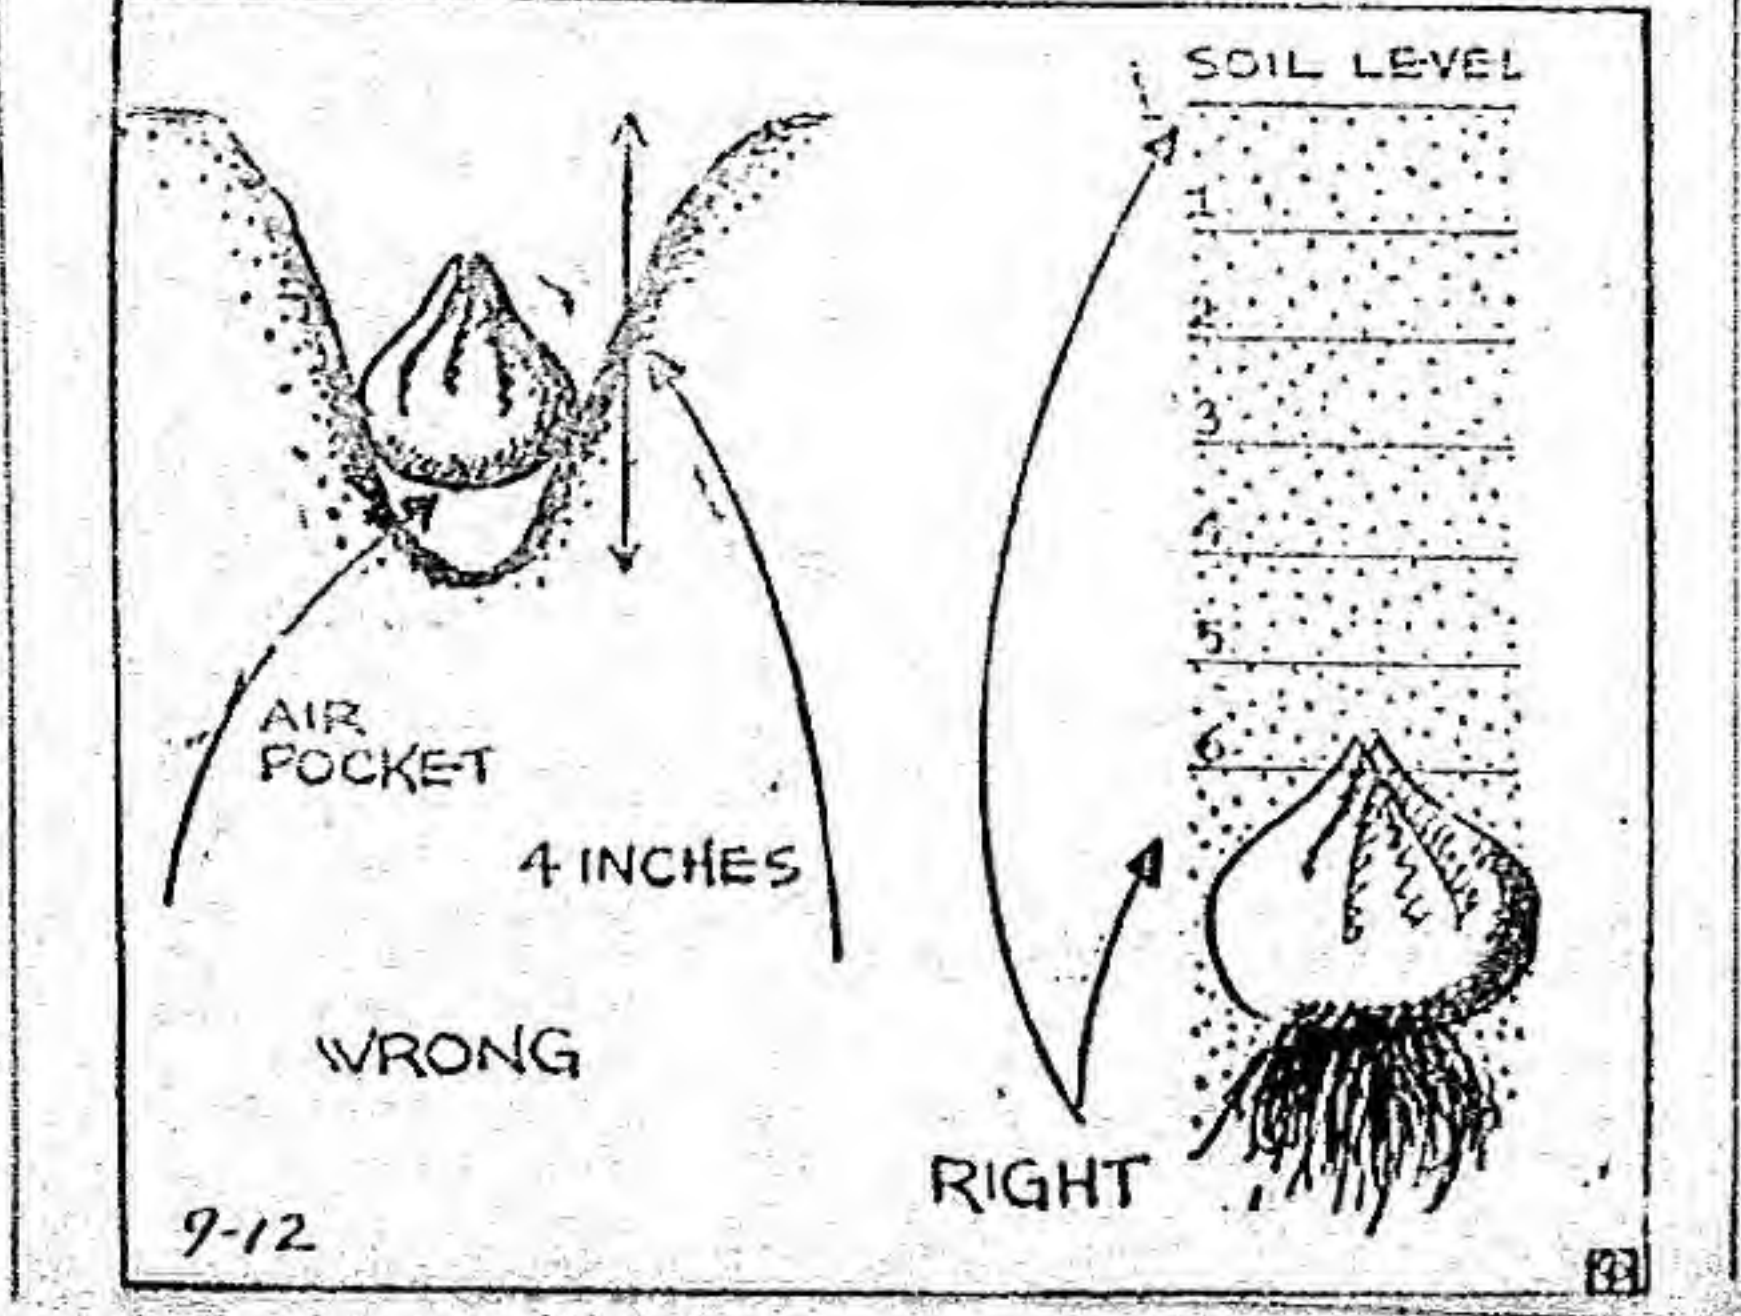

Although any good garden soil is suitable for tulips, do not plant the bulbs year after year in the same soil for fear of a disease called "tulip fire". The leaves and flowers of tulips infected with this disease become spotted and streaked as though swept by flames. The disease often completely destroys the blooms.

If planting a bed of tulips, dig out the entire bed evenly to a depth of seven inches. Then fill in with one inch of sand, and plant the bulbs firmly on it. Place the bulbs five inches apart; then fill the bed to soil level with top soil. This will give you an evenly planted bed which should bloom as one.

When you are planning to place the bulbs in small groups, informally, the holes can be dug with a hand trowel.

When planting bulbs in this manner, be sure there are no air pockets left beneath the bulbs, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. The right way and proper depth to plant each bulb also is illustrated.

Single early tulips and double early ones must be placed four inches deep and five inches apart. Darwin, Breeder, Cottage and all other late blooming tulips should be planted a good six inches deep and not less than five inches apart.

Who Pays For Advertising?

NOT THE NEWSPAPER reader, because he saves both time and money by shopping the wide selection of honest values offered through the advertising columns.

NOT THE ADVERTISER, because advertising always returns a profit when it is used correctly and consistently.

Every line of advertising in our paper is paid for by the FELLOW WHO DOESN'T ADVERTISE! The business which the non-advertiser loses pays the cost of advertising, and ALSO returns a nice profit to the fellow who DOES ADVERTISE!

The merchant who does not advertise IS THE MAN WHO PAYS for advertising. He pays for it in the volume of business he loses—in the number of customers who buy elsewhere.

Good advertising does not cost. GOOD ADVERTISING PAYS! It brings back the original investment and profit dollars, too. Almost every store wants more business than it is getting. Hoping for more business is not as effective as inviting more business.

Advertising SAVES Money

Every once in a while somebody comes into our office and starts a discussion about the COST of advertising... not only in The Era and Express, but in newspapers generally... but, honestly, in our humble opinion advertising, particularly WEEKLY newspaper advertising, used intelligently and frequently, doesn't cost money at all.

Rather it helps move merchandise faster, permits distribution economies, provides for mass production and mass sales and ultimately lower prices, with savings both for the consumers, sellers, distributors, wholesalers and manufacturers.

Take for example the classic case of the nationally-advertised light bulbs. It costs only one-fourth as much now as it did for an inferior one in 1923. Again, in 1929 the average radio set cost $135 and only a few thousand people were proud owners. Now an average set sells for about $50 with ownership in the millions, and so it goes. Mass production, spurred on by judicial advertising, has brought prices down.

Memorial Hall At Keswick Offers Busy Schedule

Keswick—The eueches at the memorial centre are growing in popularity and if you are missing them you certainly must be busy on Thursday evenings. A more pleasant social gathering would be hard to find.

The Optimist club has a wonderful treat in store for all dancers for miles around. Booked for Saturday, Oct. 1, Frank Prior's original Top Hat ten-piece orchestra will supply the music and the wonderful new floor of the memorial centre auditorium will supply the place. If you have dancing feet and a joyful spirit, the combination will guarantee an evening you'll never forget.

The dance music program will be varied to suit all ages from 12 to 60. Nothing like this has ever been offered to the dancers of this district and this club is urging your support, not but to confirm its faith in bringing such a high-class type of entertainment to Keswick.

Plan to have your Thanksgiving dinner with the crowd Saturday evening, Oct. 8. The ladies who have been providing such wonderful dinners for the Optimists are promising a hot fowl dinner that puts everything here-tofore provided in the deep shade.

Of course, proceeds to provide equipment for the memorial centre kitchen. Don't forget the bingo next Saturday.

Congregation Bids Minister Farewell

Keswick — Sunday morning service, Sept. 4, in the United church finished Rev. M. R. Brown's ministry in the church.

It was a lovely service with a large congregation present who listened to the sermon, "What of the Morrow?" Evangeline Chapman sang "I think When I Read That Sweet Story of Old" is a setting for the Baptismal service. The choir did themselves special credit and Mr. Ray Hodgson sang a fitting solo.

The services of Rev. Brown in the past years will long be remembered when interested worshippers filled the church every Sunday in summer and winter, enjoying the introduction of church chimes, something new in Keswick, and also weekly calendars which Mr. Brown prepared for his congregation. Boy Scouts and Cubs and the C.G.I.F. clubs were organized during his pastorate and a Father and Son banquet of Boy Scouts was held when 88 sat down to table.

The calendars presented at the farewell service contained a painting by a German artist of "Hands Lifted in Prayer." Mr. Brown's calendar message to the young people contained these words, "It is my wish that you may feel that you are very important and that the next few years are very valuable. Your soul and mind can climb higher, move out, move up, where you belong; move up into a world where the best that is in you can stand upright because the ceiling is high. We come from a climbing breed; then show your parents and friends your worth, and when climbing to stand on top, help some buddy to stand there with you. God bless you."

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 6, friends of Mr. Brown crowded the United church hall to show appreciation of his extensive work among them in the past years when they presented him with a generous cash donation. Gifts were presented to Mr. Brown for his work among the Boy Scouts and to Mrs. Brown for her work among the C.G.I.F. girls, and Johanne Brown also received a lovely gift. There was a short program during which we were favored with a lovely solo by Patricia Donnel and after singing "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," and a prayer of blessing from Rev. Brown, a delicious lunch was served. Our kindest wishes go with Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who take up new duties with an increase of several hundred dollars in salary, at Colborne, a town situated on Lake Ontario.

Rev. George Campbell of Colborne is exchanging pulpits with Rev. Brown. Let us hope the people will "hold up their hands" and honor their new minister, as commanded in Scripture.

LATE RESULTS
Lake Simcoe League Finals.
First game, Mount Albert 8, Hope 6.

The deciding tilt between Beach and Mount came up last Thursday. In the first frame, the Mount jumped on Cec McNeill for eight hits and romped home with seven runs, a lead that carried them through to victory and into the finals. The Beachers broke through the Mounties' armor in the second for their lone marker off a double by Ted Anderson and successive singles by Bob Winch and Donnie Cameron. Ken "Red" Mitchell pitched two-hit ball from there in.

The Hope Jinx
That old jinx that Hope wields over Keswick has worked again. Hope has skidded Keswick out of the finals over the past two seasons. They've done it again though there were some anxious moments for Longford Pegg and company before the final hex was lowered on the northerners this year. Last Friday the teams had to call it quits after six thrill-packed chapters. Hope had pushed in front 9-6 but "Old Sol" wouldn't shine long enough for them to hang the series to the masthead.

"Get That Series Over"
Monday, the teams got mobile again with words from league proxy Chapman to "get that series over and done with". When the dust had settled there was good news for the Hope contingent. Their boys had socked the daylight out of Keswick 12-0. It was a Don Glover triumph. The Hope lefty has had his troubles this past summer but this was his night, silencing the usually free swinging Keswickers on six hits and didn't see his shut-out skin seriously threatened but once as the Northerners pushed a runner around to third. That was Bob Pollock playing under difficulties after that recent injury, and Bob was put away at the plate on his attempt to score on an infield roller.

All the Hope crew managed at least one bingle off Al Hodgins who started on the losers' mound, and his successor Hal Smith. A special halo went to Ross Eves and Gordie Cook who topped the hit parade. Bruce Townsley starred afield around the three-quarter pole with some nifty fielding. Ken Hodgins kept alive his slugging reputation by leading the Keswick hitters. Better luck next year men. There's a host saying Hope will grab the large share of the melon this year. Then again, Mount Albert, the dark horse of this year's race, will be tough to pry loose from the Stan Cook trophy. The series will have started by press time. Second game Friday at Mount Albert, the third in the four out of seven set-to at Queensville Monday.

BANTAMS OUT
Newmarket bantams were knocked out of the O.B.A. play-offs on Wednesday in a sudden death game with Cardinal at Belleville. Score was 12-1.

NEWS 'N' VIEWS

By GEORGE HASKETT
ERA AND EXPRESS SPORTS EDITOR

Hills, runs and errors: It was a bolt from the blue, plate umpire Findlay's announcement "Game forfeit to Newmarket 9-0" on Saturday. New Toronto had run out of reserves. Only eight men were available after second sacker Gordeneer was ousted. A supremely confident bunch of ball players had come to town. If a couple of them carry out the threat voiced before the game, they shouldn't be any more trouble to Mac's pack. "If we don't beat this team, meaning the Vets, by eight runs we'll pack away our spikes."

Well men, what are you waiting for? Even as far along as the eighth, they oozed confidence, lifted their third and last pitcher from the game. Amazing too, was the switch to the other side of the record when tide changed. Umpiring no good, fans behind the screen jockeying their catcher harshly had to be moved away. And Gordeneer, just into the game, being thumbed out by umpire Summers. A close play on Joe Tunney at second. Their second baseman didn't like it. Told Summers too strenuously with a flow of blankety-blank language. Out he went. When the final blow fell MacDonald's men on the move and in front 10-8.

No, the series is far from over. There's a deal of spading to be done. Vets can win. Must keep in there battling and playing heads up ball.

Where there's life there's hope. They're battling tooth and nail with Keswick for coveted final round. It will be another attempt to clean up the series Monday. Friday's fray called at six, Hope ahead 9-6. Game must go the full seven. Fan attendance soaring to even greater heights this year. Gates hitting up between 60 and 80 smackers. Some of the teams should finish with a sock full of jack. Better start earlier men. Old Sol stealing behind the hills earlier these p.m.'s.

What gives? Early in the year pot was boiling for flood-lights. Vets out to get memorial park at fair grounds underway. Outside of old macadam on drill square being lifted it has bogged down. What now? Floodlights for next spring? If so, plans must be put in order this fall, says man from the electric company. His firm, by the way, installed something like 20 systems this summer. More and more it appears a necessity.

Frigidair department. Important meeting of ways and means committee chairmaned by Fred Thompson last week. If enthusiasm means a thing, Santa Claus should be pulling along an ice maker. Committee has poured over plans, visited rinks, and know machinery is ready and waiting. All needed is the dough. Canvassing to swing full out again in the next two weeks. Surface has just been scratched, something over 10,000 in the kitty, another 20 gees will do it. Crucial period just ahead will tell whether to be or not to be by December. Want a selling point? Something like 1,100 answered the school bells last week, some reluctant perhaps, nevertheless 1,100, that's public, St. John's and N.H.S. They'll go farther on skates and with a hockey stick and faster, too, than in strides.

Lose to Valleys Ladies' Finals Tied

Barrie and District Finals, third game, Newmarket 5, Valleys 2 (8 innings).

Those rosy promises we related about bringing back the Barrie and District Ladies' Softball title will have to be delayed a little. Our girls suffered a severe set-back in their plans last Friday as Valleys tied the series with a convincing 13-6 win. While Coach VanZant and Skipper Courtney chewed their finger nails up to the elbow, our ladies booted the ball around like a hot potato committing eight errors.

Barrie opened on Hester Clark, funching three errors, two walks and five hits for six runs. Our squad crept up close with four runs in the second on a pair of walks, an infield error and Mona Dean's single. The teams traded runs in the third, a walk to Mary Ellen McInnis, some fast base running and a well placed bunt by Edna McGrath doing the job.

Only once after that could our ladies break through for a run off Dorothy Miller who settled down to pitch steady ball for the winners. Our girls loaded the bases in the fourth with two out but couldn't do any damage. It took three hits to give us a run in the sixth as Mona Dean, Hester Clark and Phyl. McInnis singled, Mona scoring as Barrie pulled off a fast double killing, their second of the game, to wash out the rally. Barrie plated five in fifth, four errors having a lot to do with it, and completed their run making with a single in the sixth.

Mona Dean was the bright spot at the plate with three hits. Phyl. McInnis and Hester Clark chimed in with two each. Mary Wood led the 11-hit attack on Hester Clark with three.

LAST HOME GAME
The Newmarket ladies will play their last home game Friday at the Stuart Scott playground when they meet Valleys in the fourth game of the play-offs for the Barrie and district championship. A win by Newmarket will give them the championship.

Vets Win Opener, Bounce Legion Man No Reserves Left

If you try hard enough and long enough you'll be rewarded. That's the principle "Ceegars" McDonald and Vets have been working on. Twice previously New Toronto Legion has hashed the Vets' softball fortunes. The turning point came abruptly Saturday. In eighth with two away, Vets in front 10-8, plate umpire Findlay stepped forth "Game forfeit to Newmarket score 9-0".

Vets Try It Again, New Toronto Tonight

Newmarket Vets will attempt a chore that has proved too big to handle over the past years tonight: to knock New Toronto Legion out of the O.A.S.A. Intermediate B race. The two teams are locked in the best two out of three series at a game each. They'll play the third tonight (Thursday), at Wanless Park, North Toronto, at 5.15. Manager "Ceegars" McDonald and chief assistant Ed Tupling expect to field their strongest side for this one, hoping it will be possible to bring "Joint" McComb from the St. Louis Flyers' hockey camp at Milland and have Clarkson Arnold on hand to do the receiving. Both were missing from Monday's tilt at New Toronto's Good year field as the Vets went down 6-2.

The fifth proved another big frame for the invaders as three hits and infield error by Joint McComb on what should have been the third out gave them two runs. Bill Bowen came in but Fox, their fancy fielding shortstopper, singled for another two runs before Bowen put out the fire to give the visitors an 8-1 lead.

SERIES TIED AS LEGION COMES BACK

The series between the Vets and New Toronto Legion is tied at a game each. After getting the jump with a first game win, Vets received a 6-2 setback at Goodyear field Monday. Unearned runs came up to plague the Vets as their defense let down. It was three in the second and a single run in the third, all unearned, that set the stage for Joe Natsworthy to humble our gladiators.

The Vets' hitters got only five safeties. They reeled off three of their five in the sixth. Harvey Gibney driving over second for a single, Joe Tunney bunting, and Mickey McNulty lacing one into left-center field for a double to pump both base runners across the pay-off station. Outside of that flurry, Natsworthy escaped damage.

The Legionnaires lined up an even dozen bingles off Bill Bowen. "Ceegars" McDonald's choice to bring home the bacon. After that four-run flurry of unearned tallies in second and third frame, they stamped across the home platter with singles in the fifth and seventh from solid base knockers.

Harvey Gibney knocked out two safeties. Charlie VanZant poured the willow to another hot scorcher that proved a trifle too hot for their second sacker to handle. Joe Tunney and Mickey McNulty shelled out the others.
